Nov. 7 2009

Come join us in this COMMUNITY BUILDING gathering representing the Gift Economy. The idea is to gather once a month to share everything from useable items, skills, ideas, resources, music, smiles, talents/performances, crafts, games, plants, books, discussions and anything else. The most beautiful aspect of this event is to witness the friendships blossom and the community growing together.

Everyone is welcome at this free event, where all are encouraged to give, receive, and create on their own terms.

Date: Saturday, November 7, 2009

Time: 12:00pm - 4:00pm

Location: Lowdermilk Park (on the green) 1301 Gulf Shore Blvd N., Naples, FL 34102

This is our opportunity to step outside the isolation of our "subculture" and build meaningful connections with our neighbors and the community. The Really Really Free Market emphasizes the evaluation of consumption and is based on the concept that we, as a community, are abundant, yet often so fragmented.. it's important to come together to UPCYCLE, for one man's trash is another man's treasure!

The event is self-organized by everyone who participates...
