deals. Again compare prices at a discount office store before committing.

Plastics - Buckets, bins, organizers, clothes hangers, and the like can be good deals. If you expect heavy use, hold out for a national brand. If you just want to organize some things on a shelf, these will be fine.

I have one more caution. It's easy to toss a lot of little things into the shopping cart when prices are low. Dollar stores count on that impulse. Don't clutter your life with useless deals. Resist the cute little vase, a spoon rest, or an auto deodorizer.

There are more products, but the most important thing to
